WAR EAGLE FIELD

3043rd AAF Base Unit Contract Pilot School, Basic
POLARIS FLIGHT ACADEMY, LANCASTER, CALIFORNIA

As the time approaches when we, the classes of 44-H and 44-I, are to leave War Eagle Field, our eagerness to advance in our training and get into action is tinged with a bit of regret at leaving Polaris Flight Academy and the friends whom we have found here. We have worked hard to "win our wings" and hope in future months to be a source of pride and satisfaction to the officers who have endeavored to make GOOD SOLDIERS of us.——We will carry through with the COURAGE, WISDOM and TRUST which they have instilled into us. To keep as a record the officers, other friends and the various memories of War Eagle Fields, we have created this book.

DEDICATION

LT. HERBERT G. BENCH
Commandant of Cadets

LIEUTENANT HERBERT G. BENCH

To Lieutenant Herbert G. Bench, COMMANDANT OF CADETS at War Eagle Field, a man who understands men, this book is dedicated by Class 44-H. Always going more than half way to meet the cadets with their problems, Lieutenant Bench endeavors to keep the life of the young flyers running smoothly.——An athletic coach by profession before his entrance into the service, his aim was to produce a FIGHTING TEAM, A WINNING TEAM. As COMMANDANT OF CADETS in the air force, his aim is the same—to produce GOOD SOLDIERS. Class 44-H hopes they have not disappointed him.

MAJOR J. A. MURPHY

Gentlemen of Class 44-H:

Your record as a Basic class is definitely outstanding, but I shall attempt to tell you in a few words what our Commanding General wants from us.

Remember, there is more to being a Cadet and an Officer than just learning to fly a plane. We are not looking for a grandstand halfback; we want a clean blocking, hard hitting fullback! We want responsibility, leadership, most of all WE WANT MILITARY PILOTS!

At this stage of the game you men are just scrubs on a big team—a team with enough determination and power never to be beaten.

There's only one way to fly an airplane; the right way. The same also applies to being an Officer. Get smart, Misters, and absorb that discipline until you are saturated.

One of our great Generals once said, "As an American citizen, I take great pride in my country, her prosperity and institutions and would defend any state if her rights were invaded. But I can anticipate no greater calamity for the country than a dissolution of the Union. It would be an accumulation of all the evils we complain of, and I am willing to sacrifice everything but honor for its preservation."

If each and everyone of you continue to put forth as much effort as you have done here at Basic you will be outstanding pilots and will hasten the day of victory.

J. A. MURPHY

Major, Air Corps. Commandina.

MAJOR ARTHUR S. BLUM, JR.
Former Commanding Officer

A respected and beloved COMMANDING OFFICER was Major Arthur Stuart Blum, Jr., of War Eagle Field. Taking our basic training here under the very efficient direction and supervision of Major Blum, himself a great pilot, has given us INSPIRATION and COURAGE to live up to the best that is in us. He leaves many friends behind.

Gentlemen,

At the moment of writing this note, we at this field have been informed that you will constitute the last class to graduate from this field. Although your designation states that you are LAST, you have already proved yourselves FIRST in many ways.

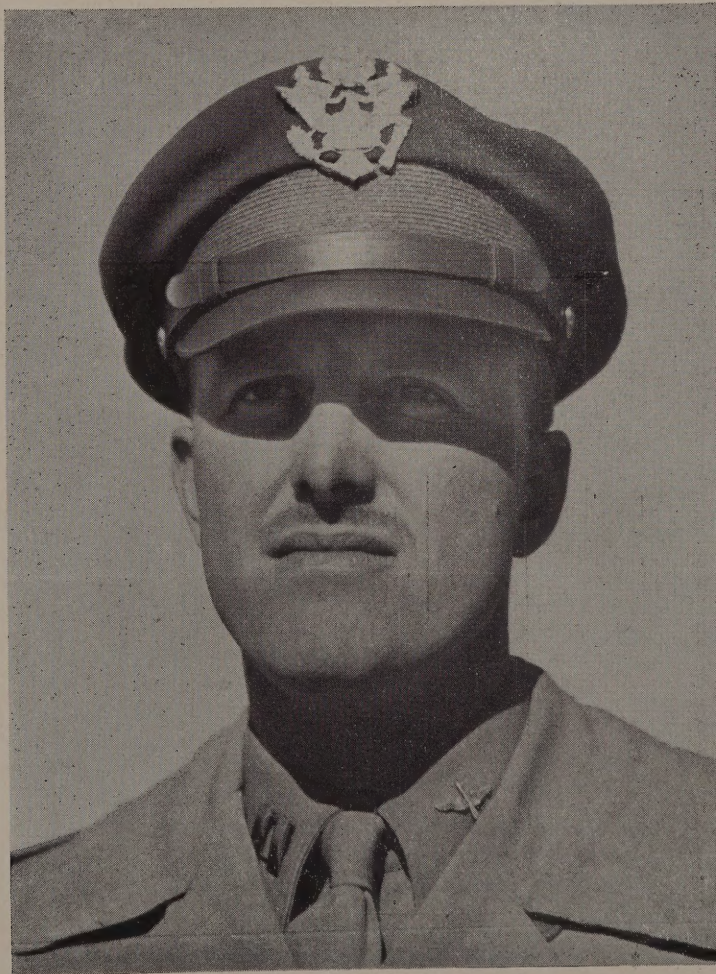

You have shown a wonderful display of spirit among yourselves since you arrived here, and what is more vitally important, set a sterling example for everyone by your outstanding DISCIPLINE.

Gentlemen, never lose that discipline which you will find means so much and the Army Air Forces will never regret having you as their pilots.

TACTICAL OFFICERS

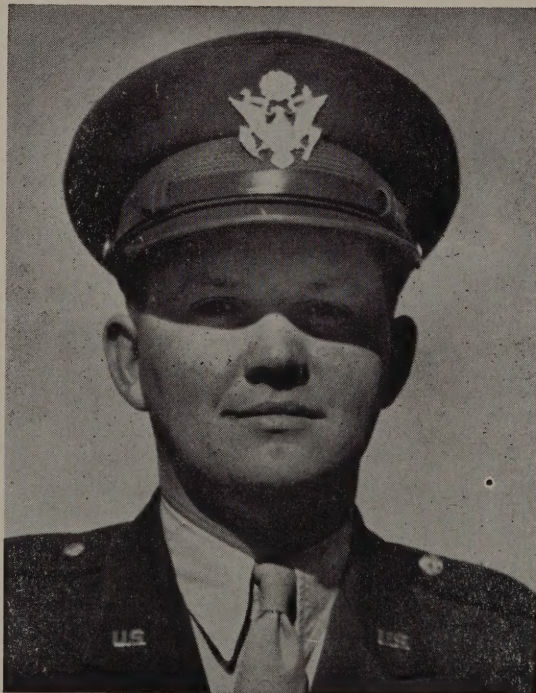

The group of TACTICAL OFFICERS at War Eagle Field, including Lieutenant James R. Jesson, assistant commandant of cadets, Lieutenant R. F. Jensen, Lieutenant H. H. Kirkpatrick, Jr., and Lieutenant B. E. Jones, Jr., have worked wholeheartedly and understandingly to keep the cadet detachment running smoothly. They have stressed to the cadets the necessity for earnestness of purpose in being good soldiers.

ARMY ADMINISTRATION

Army administration personnel are directly responsible for much that transpires away from the flight line. Insurance, allotments, and the all-important payroll all are functions of Army Administration, along with classification and safe-guarding of military information, maintaining and filing all records, and other duties.

MEDICAL OFFICERS

Flight surgeons for America's great air forces must be all things to all flyers—from consulting psychiatrists to friends and confidants—to help maintain their fitness. Such is our own Captain A. B. Thompson, flight surgeon at War Eagle Field. His staff is an able one and includes the very efficient services of Captain A. F. Sonnenberg, and Captain L. G. Leal, dentist.

While the fact that Polaris Flight Academy rates as one of the finest and most efficiently operated air fields in the West Coast Air Force, reflects credit primarily upon its Commanding Officer and his Staff, it likewise reflects great credit upon the efficiency of its ground school instructors. — These are the men who cram the hard, essential fundamentals into the heads of the pre-flight cadets.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

While we often felt that P. T.—like gigs—was a necessary infliction on the cadets, a sort of "trial by fire," as it were, we do realize that physical fitness is a vitally important phase of flying. We may have given the PHYSICAL TRAINING instructors dirty looks as we ran around the field at double time, or on our cross countries . . . But in looking back on it as we leave, we really wonder at their patience with us. THEY'RE GOOD SPORTS!

LINK TRAINER

"Now you start a five hundred foot-per-minute climb five hundred feet below sea level . . ." That would be a rather unique experience in a Vultee, but it's the paradoxically necessary maneuver in a Link Trainer. A capably-trained Link staff give cadets hours of simulated blind-flying each month, building up each flyer's experience and confidence in instruments—essential qualities every cadet must have when he's engaging in night of under-the-hood flying.
